ELTWEED POMEROY OF DORCHESTER, MASS., AND WINDSOR, CONN., AND FOUR GENERATIONS OF HIS DESCENDANTS.*

Compiled by WILLIAM WOODBRIDGE RODMAN, A.M., M.D., of New Haven, Conn.,
and communicated by Mrs. HENRY THORP BULKLEY, of Southport, Conn.

1. ELTWEED<sup>1</sup> POMEROY is believed to have come to America in 1630, in the ship "Mary and John." He took the oath of freeman, in the Colony of Massachusetts, March 4, 1632. (Mass. Colony Records, Vol. I., p. 367.) He was one of the first settlers and proprietors in the town of Dorchester, and first selectman in 1633. (Hist. of Dorchester, 1859, pp. 33, 35.)

No knowledge of his English home and ancestry has been obtained, though much effort has been made to verify various traditions. Researches are now in progress, and it is hoped they will not be entirely fruitless.

The spelling of the surname has varied from that of his own signature of Pumery to the present Pomeroiy. The Christian name is variously spelled, Elty, Eltwed, Eltwud, Eltwood, and Eltweed; and there are suggestions that the crabbed MS. may mean Eldad, or even Edward. But as ELTWEED POMEROY the sturdy armorer and gunsmith is now known to a large circle of descendants, and this spelling will be followed.

In 1636-7, Mr. Pomeroiy emigrated with Mr. John Warham's congregation to Windsor, Conn. (Hist. of Dorchester, p. 75.) Scanty as are the records of his life—but there is not here space to print all that we have—something of his standing and character may be gathered from incidental references to him to be found in Stiles's "Ancient Windsor," Vol. I., p. 164 et seq. His place in the meeting house was on the "long seats"; land was granted him in 1638; he had a house and lot in the Palisado, which he sold to Thomas Nowell in 1641; and he made gifts of

*The Pomeroiy Family Association, was formed in 1891, its object being "to study, and to develop by organized effort the history and genealogy of the Pomeroiy in America; including their British ancestry and connections; and all that may be pertinent and tributary thereto."

The Chairman was Dr. William Woodbridge Rodman of New Haven, Connecticut; vice Chairman, Dr. Hiram Sterling Pomeroiy of Boston, Massachusetts; Treasurer, Mr. George Eltweed Pomeroiy of Toledo, Ohio; Secretary, the late Mr. Chester Pomeroiy Dewey of Brooklyn, New York. These gentlemen, with the Assistant Secretary, Mrs. Henry Thorp Bulkley (Rebekah Wheeler Pomeroiy) of Southport, Connecticut, and Mr. Eltweed Pomeroiy of Newark, New Jersey, constituted the Executive Committee of the Association.

With unwearyed patience, and the scientific accuracy of a trained genealogist, Dr. Rodman collected a great amount of most valuable material; his ideals being broad and comprehensive. In the latter years of his life he was unable to add much to his store, owing to the infirmities of age.

He died March 29, 1900, four days before the completion of his eighty-third year.

In January, 1902, his papers came into the hands of the writer, who has prepared this partial and preliminary record in the hope that family attention may be aroused, some of the omissions of this paper be supplied, and any of its errors corrected. Any such corrections or additions, and further suggestions or information, will be gratefully received by her. Address, Mrs. Henry Thorp Bulkley, Southport, Conn.

houses and land to his son Caleb, and his youngest son Joseph, the latter getting "the little stone house built on his land, adjoining his dwelling house" which he allowed Mrs. Elizabeth, widow of Rev. Ephraim Huit, to build "in time of her widowhood, by way of courtesy; which she enjoyed; and after her death, said Eltweed Pomeroy took for his own, at a price agreed upon between him and those which she desired to be her overseers and friends to order that little estate which she left for children; which price he hath payed as they appointed him."

Of his first wife, the mother of his eight children, we know only that she was named Mary, and died in Windsor, July 5, 1655. On Nov. 30, 1661, he married second, Lydia (Brown), widow of Thomas Parsons. In 1665 he made generous provision for his "dear and loving wife Lydia."

In 1671 he removed to Northampton, Mass., to live with his son Medad. Tradition says that he became blind. He died at his son's house in March, 1673, being probably about seventy-eight years old.

14. GENERAL SETH<sup>4</sup> POMEROY (Ebenezer,<sup>3</sup> Medad,<sup>2</sup> Eltweed<sup>1</sup>), born in Northampton, May 20, 1706, married, Dec. 14, 1732, Mary, born Nov. 14, 1705, died Sept. 11, 1777, daughter of Jonathan and Mary (Williams) Hunt.

Large hearted, intense in will and feeling, of sound judgment and high religious principle, General Seth Pomeroy may be regarded as a typical Pomeroy; with all the courage, fortitude, business capacity, and regard for law, good government and religion, which characterize the family.

His boyhood and youth were largely spent in learning the trade of his fathers, and he became so excellent a gunsmith that the Indians of the Five Nations and the Canadas sent annual deputations to Northampton to exchange furs for his guns. He himself was unexcelled as a shot, and in his younger days was known to return to his home in Northampton, from his farm, five or six miles distant, with a deer, a bear and a wolf as the result of a day's hunting. He continued the manufacture of guns for many years, employing many workmen. After his marriage, in 1732, he was frequently engaged in the public service. To his sagacity, prudence and foresight, his great activity and unconquerable resolution, Berkshire is indebted for the first great thoroughfare through her mountains. In 1745 he joined the expedition against Louisbourg, with a major's commission. During the next ten years he held many offices of trust and importance in his country's service. In 1755 he joined the expedition against Crown Point, under Sir William Johnson, first as lieutenant-colonel, and, after the death of Col. Ephraim Williams at Lake George, on Sept. 8th, as colonel of the Massachusetts troops. He was prominent in the congresses of the province, and was present at Cambridge all the spring of 1775, organizing the hosts that gathered around Boston. He was present at the battle of Bunker Hill, where, like Warren, he was offered the command, and declined it; but fought all day, doubtless with one of his own muskets.

Two years afterward, Gen. Pomeroy raised and led a regiment to join Washington's army on the Hudson. In this service he died, at Peekskill, Feb. 13, 1777, only a month after leaving his home. A monument to his memory has been erected at Peekskill by the Sons of the Revolution. His wife died less than seven months later. (See an article in the Whig Review, 1848, by Hon. N. S. Dodge; and one in the Springfield Republican, Nov., 1875.)
